

St. Clair Cemetery, Greensburg
Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania
This Site is part of the PGenWeb

From the "History of Westmoreland 1882" by George Dallas Albert
"The largest and most beautiful of the burial grounds of Greensburg lies adjacent to the northeastern suburbs of this town and is at present denominated the St.Clair Cemetery. In former times a portion of this cemetery was commonly called the Presbyterian graveyard, but was properly and legally known as the Borough burial-ground...The following early settlers are herein buried and specifically mentioned."

Per the History of Westmoreland County, "no memorials mark the places where repose a number of persons, eminent in their lives for virtue, learning, official position, and fine social qualities. There are not stones to indicate the last earthly abodes of the old president judge, the Hon. John Young

Dr. James Postlethwaite
Dr. Alfred T. King
Rev. Henry (brother-in-law of James Buchanan)
Edward N. Clopper
Dr. S. P. Brown
Judge Burrell
Alexander McKinney

and many others, whose memories are only preserved in the hearts of friends and acquaintances."
