

the Tulsa Public Schools. On June 16, 1926 she married Fred L. Knoblock. They made their home in Tulsa, Oklahoma for the first five years of their marriage, where Mr. Knoblock was an architect. In 1931 they moved to Washington, D. C., when Mr. Knoblock accepted a position in the Supervising Architect's Office of the Federal Government. Margaret died August 22, 1947 in Washington, D. C. and is buried in Arlington Cemetery.

SARA KATHARINE HILL

Sara Katharine Hill, daughter of David Kuntz and Jeannette Moorhead Hill was born March 31, 1896, at Leechburg, Pennsylvania. She received her B. A. degree from University of Tulsa in 1921 and M. A. from Teacher's College, Columbia University in 1926. From 1921 to 1925 she taught in The Tulsa Public Schools, and during summer session of 1924 she taught at Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas. From 1926 to the present time she has been Teacher of Mathematics and Critic Teacher in the University High School, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Her present address is 619 East University Avenue, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

FREDERICK MOORHEAD

Frederick Moorhead, son of Alexander Thompson and Mary Jane Hutchison Moorhead was